IMMUTABLE, VERY.—Our neighbor Jones round the corner, has on one or two occasions, we believe, with honeyed phrase, intimated his opinion that Democracy is an excessively consistent creed; in fact, that it is just about as nearly immutable as anything can be made—considering the material, of course. The Jones platform, which our neighbor Jones round the corner pronounces the pure, undefiled democratic stuff, contains the following immutability:

"We unreservedly approve his veto of the President's Bureau and Civil Rights bills, and all his constitutional efforts, &c

That, with the gentle intimation which follows, means that the Radicals are trying to destroy our "cherished form of government," by passing the Bureau and Civil Rights bills, and that Johnson, whom Jones indorsed as above, is trying to save the nation by vetoing those two "unconstitutional" measures. On that immutable position the immutable Joneses planted themselves, resolving that the firmament of Heaven should fly from its base, sooner than they. Our neighbor Jones round the corner went on as immutably as only a Democrat knows how, from day to day showing how the Civil Rights bill was "a nuksus'loosha'l thing," and how the Joneses ought ndver to cease their immutable opposition to it. Our neighbor Jones round the corner, waked up one morning to find that President Johnson had determined to enforce the Civil Rights law, and had instructed his subordinates to see that its provisions were carried out in good faith; whereupon our neighbor Jones round the corner flew from his immutable base with the celerity of lightning, and planted himself immutably upon the Civil Rights law, saying, "this is as it should be." But the imputability of our neighbor Jones round the corner, remains quite as unquestionable as before. What has a somersault to do with immutability?

"THE LEFT WING."—Somebody, while the war for the Union was raging, most aptly described the copperheads as the "Left Wing of the Rebel army." The designation was most perfect in fitness and truth. They acted together in the most fraternal co-operation. While the Right Wing under Davis assailed the Government in front, the Left Wing under Vallandigham, Woods, Seymour & Co., assailed it on the flanks and rear. The Right wing was, however, composed of soldiers of courage and were armed with muskets, the Left Wing, a cowardly, sneaking pack, were afraid of villainous gunpowder and were therefore charged with the business of crippling the Government by discouraging enlistments, depreciating the public credit, getting up counter-rebellions and conspiracies at home, haranguing the populace upon the unconstitutionality of the Government's protecting its own existence, etc. In this method of warfare the Left was quite as effective as the Right Wing and did quite as much to prolong the war and to necessitate a vast expenditure of life and money.

The major part of the Right Wing laid down their arms and surrendered to General Grant on the 9th of April 1865, and the rest of them surrendered to the same General on the 26th of April, a few squads only, keeping the field a few days longer. One of the leaders of the "Left Wing"—an assassin—on the same day was shot and killed by a Union Soldier—Sergeant Boston Corbett. The rest of the "Left Wing" force still keeps up its organization with a view to procuring the reinstatement of their rebel friends, in the offices of the Government. The division of the "Left Wing," stationed in Oregon, having procured a number of reinforcements from Price's guerrillas, are flattering themselves just now, that they can capture, or as Mosher Jones states it, "secure the State." The "Left Wing" have all "seen Jones" and are all "Simon'Pures."

A FOREIGN VIEW OF RECONSTRUCTION.—The following, on the American "situation," from the London Reader, is a very clear and impartial statement of the matters now in issue between the President and Congress, so far as the African race is concerned. It is most remarkable that some of our own people are so blind, while the most of our foreign neighbors comprehend so well the consequences of making too much haste in the business of reconstruction:

With the exception of a few fanatical partisans, nobody has ever advocated the permanent non-restoration of State Government in the South. Both President and Congress, Republicans and Democrats, are agreed that local self-government, as it exists in the North, must be re-established in the South as soon as possible. The question between the two parties is one of time. The President says the State Governments may be safely re-established now; Congress declares that this cannot be prudently done till certain preliminary concessions have been made by the ex-confederate States.

If the States are readmitted at once to the Union they will become immediately and completely independent of all Federal control with respect to their internal legislation. In accordance with the terms of the amended Constitution, they will not be able to re-establish chattel slavery in any form. In other words, no citizen of any State in the Union can henceforth hold property in man. But the States will be undoubtedly at liberty to pass any laws they choose for the regulation of the relations between black and white. The whole tenor of the advices from the South shows that this power of legislation is likely to be realized. The uneducated Southerner dislikes the negro, not only as an African, but as the protégé of the Yankee race; and the educated masses have a morbid dread of negro equality now that slavery is abolished.

Thus in every Southern State laws would undoubtedly be passed designed to uphold the legal as well as the social superiority of the whites, and to keep the negroes permanently in the condition of a subject caste. Stern vagrant laws would probably be enacted; intermarriage between blacks and whites would be made a statutable offence; negro testimony would be excluded from court; the right of free labor accorded to the negroes would be hampered with so many restrictions as to render it comparatively worthless; the right of holding landed property would be denied them; and obstacles would be thrown in the way of any system of general education for the blacks.

That legislation of such a character is likely to succeed the restoration of Southern State government, no candid American will deny.

RESCUE OF A WHITE GIRL FROM THE INDIANS. The late expedition under Major Wynkoop to the Indian Territory, succeeded in rescuing a young lady captive named Amanda Fletcher, fifteen years of age, who was captured near Fort Hallock on the 1st of August last, while en route for Idaho with her parents. Her mother was badly wounded at the time and may have died, but her father escaped. The family was from Minersville, Henry county, Illinois. She had been subject to all the cruelties and atrocities incident to a captivity of this degradation, but now enjoys excellent health, and is delighted at her deliverance.

PARDONS TO ORDER.—A Washington letter-writer tells a droll story of the President, by which it would appear that his Excellency was being shaved the other day, when the barber accidentally tweaked his nose a little too hard. "

Why was the Peace Proclamation Issued?

Some days ago the President issued a proclamation of peace, but as he still refuses to permit the operation of the civil laws in the revolted States, his conduct toward them is precisely what it would be had the proclamation never been made. The jurisdiction of the military authorities over these States is still asserted and exercised, the writ of habeas corpus is not yet restored, and the laws of the States are enforced or disregarded at the President's pleasure The proclamation does not alter the relations which, since the end of the war, have subsisted between the National Government and the insurgent States. What then was it intended for? If the results of peace are not to follow the peace proclamation, why was this proclamation issued? The proclamation that the Southern States are restored on the President's terms to their relations with the Government of the Union, was intended as an attack on the position of Congress and as an impeachment of its wisdom. The war was virtually ended a year ago, and this proclamation might as well have been published then as to have been deferred till now—if indeed it was necessary to have issued it at all. There is no change in the condition of the rebel States which demanded or justified its issuance at the present time. Nor does any change in the relations of those States with the Government take place as a result of its promulgation, therefore the President in issuing it had some object in view besides the immediate reconcilement of all parts of the country. It was issued merely as a political bulletin, with a view, on the part of the President, of hurling defiance at Congress and of giving him and his "policy," together with his "new party," strength among the people. How miserably the device failed, the Connecticut election sufficiently attests The President is more interested in building up a majority party that will sustain him and his "policy," than in carrying out the will of the loyal people who have saved the nation.

"HANDSOME" RUFFIANISM.—In the leading editorial column of the Herald yesterday morning, one A. M. Burns, a man of whom this community long ago had enough, was complimented for having in a cowardly and ruffianly manner assaulted the reporter of this paper at a time when he had no idea of his assailant's "chivalrous" purpose. To give the Herald's own refined language, Burns "succeeded in upsetting his (the reporter's) apple cart quite handsomely." The high-toned moralist who thus encourages ruffianism is, of course, a "peace" man, a Pharisaical Democrat—one of that class who applauded Brooks for his brutal attack on Sumner, and who think that Southern plantation manners, and the decayed, seedy Southern "chivalry," are worthy of all imitation. These fellows know how to engage in street brawls, to steal up behind the object of their dislike and strike him senseless with a blow, and to boast of their own prowess when gentlemen decline to degrade themselves by engaging in personal encounters with them. In fact the "chivalry" and their imitators have all the bravado of bullies, and recognise no other honorable way of settling difficulties or of obtaining redress than that characterized by the sanctimonious editor of the Herald as the very "handsome" feat of knocking a man down when he is not expecting it. And yet these "chivalrous" Democrats are as cowardly as they are brutal. When there is real danger, nobody can be more pusillanimous than they It was those heroes of the bludgeon, whom the Herald man has such an admiration for, and who could knock men down "handsomely" after the manner so felicitously and admiringly described by our Democratic neighbor, that brought on the late rebellion. But when these bullies—the invincible "chivalry"—were confronted by the outraged men of the North who had been called cowards, the said proud "chivalry" sunk upon their knees and begged for their cowardly lives

How many cowards whose hearts are all as false
As stairs of sand wear yet upon their chins
The beards of Hercules and frowning Mars;
Who inward searched have livers white as milk?
And these same no but valor's excrement,
To render them redoubted!

The Herald man, by reason of his education and associations, may think it a great feat to "succeed quite handsomely!" in knocking a man down when he is not expecting an assault, and in this he shows the genuineness of his high-toned "chivalrous" Democracy.

The Herald has a standing "dead-head" advertisement of a "Democratic" Magazine which professes to be "devoted to the principles of 1776 and 1787" As a mode of "keeping fresh in the popular mind these grand principles," the aforementioned eminently "Democratic" Magazine promises to publish "a series of sketches of the most distinguished Southern Generals," among whom are named Lee, Stonewall Jackson, Jo. Johnston, Beauregard, Price, etc. This procedure is very Democratic. The connection between the "principles" of that party and the late slave-holders' rebellion is patent, and the more honest and consistent class of Democrats do not hesitate to boldly avow it. O Meara has never denied it, nor did the Herald man while he was editor of that able and widely known journal, the Pike County Democrat

A REPORT DENIED.—A report having been put in circulation that General Meade, at the request of the President, had consented to be a candidate on the Democratic ticket for Governor of Pennsylvania, the General addressed a letter to the Evening Telegraph of Philadelphia, asserting that the report was without foundation. Gen Meade does not seek to be associated with the party which declared that the efforts of our soldiers to put down the rebellion resulted in failure

THE REVIEW SEES BLOOD.—The last issue of the Review fulminates the following threat, by which it no doubt expects to frighten the poor timid "abolitionists" from voting

We warn the people as we did when the war of 61 was about to break upon us that another more fearful more destructive and lasting in character is now upon the eve of breaking upon us

The Review has forgotten that the abolitionists have recently flogged into submission the blue lecturers who used to carry everything for the Democrats by that sort of threatening nonsense

State Items

The Red Bluff Independent says a letter has been received from Gen Bidwell, stating that the Marysville and Oregon railroad bill is sure to be passed by Congress, and that work will be commenced on it early this season. The original plan was to begin work on each end of the road at the same time, and work toward the middle.

The weather is probably much better in Southern Oregon than here, as we learn that teamsters of Northern California are now on the road to Jacksonville with heavy freights

The Mountaineer says "We noticed a large train start out yesterday for Blackfoot, by way of White Bluffs."

The report of the Grand Jury of Wasco county recommends the renting of the Oregon Hotel for the purposes of a hospital, the present building being too small. The report also recommends the enlargement of the county jail, or the building of a new one The prison now in use is said to be crowded

SIGNIFICANT.—One of the most significant proofs of the unanimity with which the people support the position of Congress in relation to the non admission of representatives from the lately rebellious States, until they can be admitted with safety to the Government, is found not only in the result of all the late elections, but in the tone of the press While the people probably were not thoroughly excited by the mere veto of the Freedmen's Bureau bill, they were very deeply stirred by the veto of the civil rights bill and that they have made their will heard and felt is conclusively proved by the marked change which has come over some of the leading journals as to the necessity for such a law. We may mention the Albany Journal as having fully acknowledged the verdict of the people in favor of the law and the majority in Congress. The Springfield Republican, though still unwilling to admit that the President is altogether more in the wrong than Congress as to the general policy of reconstruction, very fully admits the necessity of a law to confer upon and protect the freedmen in civil rights, as other men, and goes even further than Congress has ever yet consented to go in the matter of elevating the negro to suffrage. We do not know of any leading Union newspaper which does not now assert or tacitly acknowledge the rightfulness of the law conferring civil rights equally upon all American born men. The Copperheads are left alone in their hostility to this most righteous measure,

The San Francisco Examiner, relgel, wails a wail beginning as follows, to-wit:

The election news is not as cheering as we would have had it.

The Examiner had just heard from Connecticut The Herald wails a copy of the Examiner's wail, and thus these disconsolate Jonesmingle their tears over a common destitution of something "cheering" When the returns come in from the Oregon election, the Herald will wail another wail beginning as follows, to-wit:

The election news is not as cheering as we would have had it.

"I, Andrew Johnson, hereby proclaim liberty—full, broad, unconditional liberty—to every man in Tennessee I will be your Moses, and lead you through the Red Sea of struggle and servitude, to a future of liberty and peace Loyal man, whether white or black shall govern the State —Old Speech.

If Andrew Johnson had fulfilled these promises there would now be no difference between him and the masses of the Union party.

Letter from Blackfoot

The following letter dated "Blackfoot, March 29th," is published in the Mountaineer:

FRIEND B—I received your kind note of the 15th of February about a week ago, and as Wal drop starts back to morrow, I will try and give you a little information concerning this country In the first place, we have had rather a tedious winter, and a few very cold days, and pretty deep snow, and some awful snow storms, but I think on the whole, I have experienced as cold weather in the States of Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois and Iowa But what hurts the worst here, we were for a while shut off from all outside communication, but the snow now is going off very fast, and here in town, oh horrible, how muddy! The snow in Front street is all off from Bardseye's upper buildings down to the lower end of town People begin to move around, and times are rather brisk, and the merchants and saloon keepers are putting up fine fronts and painting up.

Prospects look favorable for Blackfoot Everybody seems to be confident that Door Lodge county is the county in Montana Territory, and that Blackfoot is the town

Now, in relation to prices current here, I am but little posted I will give you only some few articles Flour retails at $24, bacon 25 c, Java Coffee $1 25, rice $1, tobacco $4 to $6 and getting rather scarce D, bought a lot of flour the other day for $27 50 Since then it has gone up a little, but if I had flour here I would dispose of it at present prices if I could

Elk, Bear and several smaller gulches in that vicinity are all the go for some, but I think McClellan's and Carpenter's, and the hill and bar diggings around here are all O K

STAND BY ANDY.—Colonel Crockett, late of the rebel army, in a speech delivered at a meeting held at Memphis, February 27th, to uphold the President in his usurpations of the Constitution, said "If the South would stand as a unit by Andy Johnson with the Conservative party in the North, before five years would elapse the South would again control the Government and under the Constitution enjoy the rights they had fought in vain to secure outside He had fought against the government, but he stood by Andy Johnson" Crocket is exactly right He thinks that standing by Johnson and fighting against the Government are one and the same

IGNORANCE AND THE REBELLION.—Recent statistics show that there were in 1860 no less than 588 182 free adults in the slave States who could neither read nor write, of whom 226,808 were men, and 141 284 were women, which accounts first for the folly of the Southern men in going into the rebellion and secondly for the greater devotion of the Southern women to it—the zeal of both being attributable and proportionate to their ignorance

A letter from Galveston says that city has become a rendezvous from all parts of the South Such a thing as respect for law is not known Murders are of almost daily occurrence

The St Louis Democrat says There is no longer any doubt that bushwackers in the river counties are organizing into marauding bands but with what strength is not precisely known The authorities will no doubt, take the matter in hand and defeat their murderous designs

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN is published this morning. It is for the latest telegraphic news from the East and a selection of the best articles appearing in THE DAILY OREGONIAN,—full and reliable news from the State, and the most copious commercial information published by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is double that published by any other journal in Oregon; and in the particular of Commercial statistics and the markets we aim to make it the most reliable. Single copies 12½ cents, or $3 00 per year, to any part of the United States, or British Columbia.

A "REPEATING IDEA."—Another use to which crude petroleum may be applied is thus referred to in a New York letter to the S. F. Call: "They have developed a new kind of heat, and a useful one, in striking 'fire' Kerosene oil is the general demand here, now for those who do not use gas, and has run all the 'burning fluid,' camphene and alcohol out of the market. But now we have gas, it seems, manufactured out of petroleum. Yes, indeed, and a splendid gas, giving four times the quantity of light of coal, pure gas, costing four times the quantity of light of coal, pure gas, costing four cents a cubic foot. Think of it! Produced by a similar number of cubic feet of our coal gas, and costing still less! This seems incredible, but the fact is apparent to our senses. This new petroleum gas is to be sent here by alleyway. It takes only 250 cubic feet to supply the illuminating power produced by 1,000 cubic feet of our usual gas, and while the latter sells at $5 a 1,000 feet, the petroleum gas can be sold at $1 50. Of course, the oil companies are all on the gas side. Our present gas companies enjoy a profitable monopoly. They have not let the public know how much they make. They much of each has been 'watered' ostensibly and still more where up to about 250 shares par. I think still, with their enormous capital, these companies exercise an extraordinary influence over the Legislature at Albany, and the Councils here. A new company can hardly obtain a charter to lay pipes in the street. But if a better quality of gas, at one fourth the price, can be obtained, no opposition, or capability will, of course, be potential, and it will be."

SOME MOVES.—Mr. Newton arrived from White Bluffs last evening, and we learn from him that busy times are there, at now-a-days in that embryo city. The steamers Nez Perces and New Idaho Chief have made trips to the Bluffs this spring, loaded with Jly Band and Black Foot Indians and passengers. The steamer Yakonia, which left Celilo to-day, takes a quantity of building material for a warehouse, to be constructed by the Oregon Steam Navigation Company at White Bluffs. Capt. Quinn will soon start two schooners from Celilo, loaded with materials for buildings to be erected there, and Mr. Atkinson, of Celilo, is preparing to engage quite extensively in rafting lumber down snake River, to be used in the White Bluffs by the Columbia river steamers. The town has been surveyed by Mr. L. Schoff, of Dalles City, and duly recorded. Who can predict that the future of White Bluffs can be other than promising. We were shown receipts from teamsters yesterday, for freight at 5 cents per pound, from White Bluffs to Pend d'Oreille Lake, and it is stated that more than one half the travel to Pend d'Oreille and Blackfoot is that way.

[illegible]—Our fellow-citizen, Thomas J. Holmes, Esq., left by the steamer of Thursday last from a trip to the United States, whither he went partly for the purpose of obtaining plans and materials for a new building on the theatre block. He has been home for so short a time that he cannot definitely state whether he will be able to carry his plans into execution this year or not, but if he will be he will have the building in course of erection by the 1st of September, will cover half the block, and the plant are for either four stories or three. He will include a new theatre in the building, notwithstanding renting of the theatre in this city has not been a profitable business to him. As soon as the plans of Mr. Holmes are consummated, we shall return to a pleasure to again allude to them. At present we can only welcome him home again.

OUR MACHINERY.—The steamers leaving daily now almost daily take large quantities of machinery from the various iron works of the city. Yesterday the largest balance wheel ever cast north of San Francisco was shipped to Salem, for the engine of Prouty, Patty & Co., made at the same foundry that produced the engine of the first shipment. Besides the above, we noticed a large quantity of quarts machinery on the wharf for the O. S. N. Company, for the Blue mountain mining region. Four drays and two carts were employed in the hauling, and the entire shipment amounted to 21,000 pounds, from the Willamette Iron Works, of as fine castings as were ever turned out of any foundry on this coast. We are glad to know that our people are beginning to realize the worth of the home manufacturer.

OIL CROPS, ETC.—The stocks of oil cloths, carpets, and articles in that line, have not been very large on the Pacific for a year past, but yet there has been at all times sufficient to supply the demand in this market, whose prices obtained did not seem to warrant further importations. At one time American manufactured goods were sold for less than the cost of importation, we think, the fault seems coming to our own doors. The Stock and from importers' first hands. Walter Brothers, of this city, are receiving a very large stock, which is comprised of all the new designs that the supply markets can furnish, and their sales will afford an opportunity seldom obtained by purchasers in the Oregon markets. We recommend an inspection of their stock. See advertisement.

NEW ENGLAND.—Mr. S. S. Douglass, now on a visit to New England from this city, has sent to Messrs. McCraken, Merrill & Co, a small case of eggs, put up at Newark, on the 5th of February, and samples broken yesterday. The eggs have proven the eggs to be as fresh as when laid by the hen. The process consists of a varnish laid over the outside of the shell, and we presume eggs put up in that way would keep good in Oregon for at least one year. The process was discovered by a relative of the inventor, who has it patented, and it appears quite valuable from it. Mr. D. has the right for California and Oregon, and will be home to operate with it soon.

CIRCUIT COURT—J. J. HOFFMAN, J.—April 20th, 1866.—Frank Smith, upon conviction of assault and battery, in default of payment of fine.....Capt. A. McBurne, master of the California Steam Navigation Company's vessel Pacific, was found guilty of assault and battery, and compelled to pay the full penalty of the law, fine and costs or go to jail. He paid the fine.....Two Chinamen, Tom King and Sung Sing, were arrested for selling the side walk on Washington street, and will have a hearing to-day.

NEW HOUSE BUILT.—Mr. L. T. Schultz has not established a new music store in one sense, still, in his particular he has. That is to say, he keeps all the latest publications of new music for his store, and has so much on hand at this place of business that it looks like a new establishment. We called upon him yesterday, and found him in the enjoyment of the use of a lot of many varieties of sheet music, which he offers for sale, as will be more by his new advertisement this morning. If you want anything in his line, give him a call.

ARRIVAL.—Mr. [illegible] Malmont.—We learn from private sources that the [illegible] Orowoc, purchased a few months since by the O. S. N. Company, Oregon and Mexico Company, is to be employed in the Oregon trade. The loss of the [illegible] was attributed to a variation in her compass, which had been removed at the time of the repairs to the ship, and not replaced by the builders. The [illegible] Del Norte of the California, Oregon and Mexico Company, has been purchased by the [illegible] Company.

A TRIP.—Rev. Mr Stebbins returned from [illegible] evening, very much gratified by the trip on the [illegible]. He was accompanied by Vice President [illegible] of the O. S. N. Company, Rev. Mr. Lippincott, and United States A[illegible] Fraser. Everybody who wants to see the Columbia somehow meets with a mingled success and pleasure, Mr. Stebbins will sail for San Francisco by the Montana next week.

[illegible]—Messrs. Ladd & Tilton have in a frame, at their banking house in this city, a fine collection of "heads" of the early days of this country, and of when a Territory, as well a few notes of the late [illegible] A., redeemable after the ratification of a treaty of peace, and the recognition of the independence of the Confederate States. These latter are not worth half so much as a Continental.

OREGON CENTRAL MILITARY ROAD.—The Oregon Central Military Road Company are preparing to send out parties for the purpose of [illegible] upon the road from Eugene City, intending to have [illegible] established over the route before winter. They are fitting out an expedition at this time, and [illegible] to leave a number of Sibley tents made in this city for that purpose, by Mr. B. C. Aldrich, hydraulic hose, call and test maker.

[illegible]—Our friend Capt. P. B. Johnson, late of the Quartermaster's department at Fort Walla Walla, has returned from a visit to California, where he was mustered out of service, and now casts his card before the public and will take up his permanent residence at Walla Walla, for the practice of law. We wish him abundant success.

DEATH OF MR. COUGLE.—Mr. S. L. S. Cougle, a much respected citizen of this place, who has suffered for several years with consumption, died at his residence yesterday morning. The funeral services will be held at the Congregational Church to-morrow at [illegible] o'clock P. M. Friends of the family are respectfully asked to attend.

ARRIVAL OF THE SIERRA NAVADA.—A dispatch from San Francisco announces that the Steamship Sierra Nevada, Capt. Francis Connor, arrived at San Francisco on [illegible] day evening.

PREACHING.—Rev. Horatio Stebbins will preach to-morrow morning, and evening, at the Methodist Church, corner of Taylor and Second streets. Services at the usual hours.

FOR WESTERN ISLANDS.—The schooner Mary Davis Capt. Hewitt, will sail to day as above, returning as early as [illegible] with a cargo of spruce timber.

THE CARIBOO.—The steamship Detroit, Capt. Metzger [illegible] Record, will leave Portland for San Francisco on Monday evening next at 6 o'clock.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.—Mr. E. W. Tracy agent for King, Myrick & Co., offers for sale several valuable lots in Couch's addition. See advertisement.

THE UPPER WILLAMETTE.—The People's Transportation Company will dispatch the steamer Active for Lancaster and Harrisburg on Tuesday next.

PULMONIA AND CONSUMPTION.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are widely and favorably known as a remedy for Coughs, Hoarseness, Coughs, and other troubles of the Throat and Lungs. They are of great value for the purposes for which they are designed, while they are entirely free from any offensive, they contain no hurtful ingredient, and may be safely at all times be used with perfect safety.—Boston Recorder.

Idaho News

We find the following items in the Idaho Statesman of the 10th and 12th:

A FATAL MISTAKE.—A most unfortunate occurrence took place at the garrison on Sunday night, which resulted in the death of private McCord of Capt. White's company, One on Cavalry. McCord was on duty in the guard house and had been relieved. He went out a short distance from the guard house and soon came back, passed the sentinel and rushed into the house in an excitement such that the guard inside supposing him to be a party came to attack the premises rushed out and killing him instantly. His manner was unaccountable as there was nothing on earth for him to be alarmed.

A MAN HUNT—PROMPT VIGILANCE ORGANIZATION.—There was considerable excitement in town at an early hour last Saturday morning in the news spread that there was a man hanging to a temporary gibbet at the corner just outside. On within the guards found the fact to be that a man had been taken in the night and walled the spot, where it was found that John C. Clark whom we noticed last week as having been committed for the murder of Higgins and was under charge, dead. Justice Kinsman held a Coroner's jury, which ascertained the following facts. That Clark was confined in the post guard house with three other county prisoners between the hours of one and two o'clock Saturday morning, a party of men, numbering from fifteen to twenty five, attacked the guard on the outside and entered the guard house at the same moment, then threw them down smothered and pinioned them, threatening them with death if they resisted, while others entered the cell where the county prisoners were and took Clark away. After all were gone one of the guard loosened himself and then his companions and gave the alarm to the garrison, but it was too dark to learn what direction had been taken by the captors. All the men were disguised so that they could not be recognized by the guard or by the remaining prisoners in the cell. No other disturbance whatever occurred and nothing unusual was observed. It was till daylight, when Clark was found hanging as before mentioned.

Pinned to one of the uprights where Clark hung was the following significant notice

No 1

Justice has now commenced her righteous work. This suffering community which has already lain too long under the lash of ruffianism, shall now be renovated of its curses and obnoxious forbearance has at last ceased to be a virtue, and an outraged community has most solemnly resolved in SELF PROTECTION

Let this man's fate be a terrible warning to all his kind, for the argus eyed of Justice is no more sure to see than her arm will be certain to strike.

The fate of this beautiful valley shall no longer be desecrated by the presence of ruffians and assassins. This fatal example has no terror for the innocent, but let the guilty beware and not delay too long, and take warning.

XXX

There were several other prisoners confined with Clark, whose cases will probably come up for trial at the term of court to commence on next Monday. They were unmolested.

ASSAY AND BANKING HOUSE IN OWYHEE.—It is a pleasure to learn that there is to be established in a few days an assay and banking house at Owyhee under the title of Messrs. King, Webb & Co. The firm will commence business with favorable connections in Portland, San Francisco and New York, and all the capital they need. Mr. King is of the well known firm of Tracy & King, of Portland, and for several years assayer at the San Francisco Mint. He enjoys the very first reputation as an assayer on the Pacific coast. Mr. Webb has been for nearly two years connected with the firm of H. M. Butcall & Co., of this city, and has during that time established a character as a first rate reliable business man. These two gentlemen will take charge of the business at Owyhee. Their freight, vaults and apparatus are now at Umatilla and expected to arrive in about thirty days. They will commence operations as soon as possible thereafter.

FROM IDAHO CITY.

A letter of April 6th, from Id the City contains the subjoined items:

Elk and Moore's creek are on a big spree at the present time, water spreading over the claims, making it almost impossible to work at present, although the miners are ready and anxious to get at the dust. Mining on ravines, bars and hills is unobstructed and vigorously prosecuted.

The County Commissioners have been in session this week. They appointed A. P. Turner Justice of the Peace in place of W. Barnes, resigned, and finished up a large amount of business laid over from previous sessions.

A miner by the name of Pinkley was found dead in a prospect hole on Moore's creek, on Sunday last. He is a Prussian by birth and has no relations in Idaho.

MATTERS IN ONEIDA COUNTY.

Regarding the matter of the Constitutional Convention, the sentiment of the people of this county are evidently against it. They are opposed at this time to incurring the expense of supporting a State Government, and would much rather delay the matter until they are better able to sustain such responsibility.

The meeting about the matter of changing the county seat was attended by all the citizens of this town and vicinity. Addresses were made and much indignation expressed at the course of the Legislature and the Governor. One orator made some remarks about our county affairs and laid some matters before the people that will have the effect of putting Oneida in bad odor with all parties in this county.

ALTURAS COUNTY.

A private letter from Rocky Bar says: The "Empire State of Idaho" that I wrote to you about has proven to be the "Alturas," and belongs to Capt. Rinehart and the Victor Company. The correction ought to be made in the Statesman. The snow is disappearing fast.

ARRIVAL OF TRAINS

The World notices the arrival of eight pack trains and two wagon trains in Idaho City, from Umatilla, during the week ending April 7th. One of the trains belonging to Frank Looney, had seventy animals. There is a scarcity of mules in and around Idaho City, and miners are commanding good wages.

M. HOWARD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE,

315 Montgomery St., San Francisco.

THE ABOVE PREPARATION, WHICH HAS BEEN recently discovered and patented, is purely a Vegetable Extract.

The undersigned are fully aware of the many unutterable and useless preparations for restoring hair that have been introduced to the public, and how little confidence is to be placed in any pretensions to restoring the hair to bald heads, but having tried MR. HOWARD'S PREPARATION, we are able to state that it not only prevents the hair from falling out, but absolutely reproduces it, and that we now have good suits of hair growing where we were entirely bald. Therefore, as a matter of justice to Mr. Howard, and of consideration to bald heads we append hereto this testimonial. Mr. H keeps the article for sale in bottles with directions for its use, or applies it himself, as may be desired.

Beware of Imposition. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from Indies, clergymen merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask; We answer, 'tis an easy task.
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER duly to its office plies And regulate from day to day
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan, Brace and refresh the INNER MAN.
And like a watch that's kept in chime By constant care, with unbroke time,
This system's tone and strength renew, And thereby cheat the spirits' foe.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done? This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply, IS HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, forcing the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors first prepare, That favor taint the heavy air
Drink not unboiled the water found In prairie woods or marshy ground
If sedentary toil you ply, Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise For artificial aid she cries
Medicine's grateful purpose and intent Is the state to avert to prevent
And if you'd be relieved or spared From ills that crush the unprepared,
Resort to BITTERS use—for none They are the sickly STRENGTH'S WITNESS.

To act at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work rooms and factories, and the baneful influences of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind The body, and depress the mind:
Agues, that as they go and come, Make life a constant martyrdom:
Colics and dysenteric pains, Which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills, No'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhœa, that cannot be Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—Hernia of madness or the tomb;
For those though mineral nostrums fail—Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure, Not to prevent, alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea-sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the unequaled remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land, From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households here, in regions new, And dwellers in great cities, too
To soldiers in camp, fort and field, Who need against disease a shield;

To feeble wives of fragile mold, To young and middle aged, and old,
To those in health, who would enjoy Heaven's best gifts without allay;
To all the strugglers, weak and pale, Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present As Health's most potent element.

KOHN & FISHEL,

A STORY.—An instructive illustration of the present feeling at the South is found in the following clauses from the Pay bill lately passed by the Alabama Legislature:

"12. To sell or expose for sale for one year, at any one place, any periodical or illustrated weekly, or any monthly paper, periodical or magazine, published outside the limits of this State and not in a foreign country, and to vend the same on the streets, or in boats or railroad cars, fifty dollars.

"13. To keep a news depot for one year, in any city, town or village, for the sale of any newspaper, periodical or magazine not including proscribed, provided for in the preceding paragraph, ten dollars."

It is not many months since Provisional Governor Parsons of Alabama ranked among us for superior patriotism and, and according to Mr. Boucher, he met no unwilling response. Indeed Northern capital and energy and skill are all ready and waiting to reinforce those of the Southern States the moment there is any indication of a fair security of person and property in the lately disturbed section.

But such laws as those we quote are morals steps backward toward barbarism. Do not the intelligent men of Alabama see that in education alone lies the sole hope of a return of peace and prosperity to the State? No civilized people was ever benefited by ignorance, and there is nothing more perilous to a community than ignorance enforced by law.

The clause of the bill which we quote, are directed, it will be observed, against the illustrated weekly and monthly papers and magazines published in this country. English or French or German literature of the kind, so much of which is inspired, as we have seen during the war, by hatred and contempt of American institutions, may be freely introduced. The clauses we quote are intended to prohibit the sale of the periodical literature published at the North. It is an effort to silence the expression of sentiments which the majority of the Legislature do not like. It is a direct and despotic assault upon free discussion; and like all despotism of the kind is a confession of utter weakness. It is a heavy and crushing tax upon knowledge. It is an attempt to perpetuate that tyranny based upon ignorance which enabled a few men to hoodwink and bamboozle the people of the South until they maddened them into revolution.

Now the sentiments of this paper and of many other papers are no more agreeable to the current opinions of the South than those opinions are to us. But we ask any sensible man in Alabama, however he may differ from our views, whether he is unwilling to trust the fundamental principles of a free government? If he fought during the war for a simple despotism, of course the nearer he approaches it under the Union the more satisfied he will be. But if he fought for what he believed to be a free popular government, he knows that such a government is impossible under such laws as we are considering. Does not such a man see what every other man in the country sees, that those who exclude any means of education and extinguish free discussion "neither go themselves nor suffer them that are entering to go in?" Let any Southern man read Mr. Barringer's Letters to Mr. Kelly of Pennsylvania, published in the Washington Chronicle at the end of January, and say whether Mr. Barringer, who is a North Carolinian, is not a more truly sagacious and conservative leader than the men who pass these foolish laws in the Alabama Legislature. "Northern radicalism even," writes a gentleman who knows what he says, "understands our wants and necessities better than do our leading men here at home in the South."

Every man in Alabama who sincerely loves the State must deplore such insane legislating, as we should deplore a similar misfortune here in New York. It infinitely delays and perplexes the work in which all good citizens of the country are now engaged, for it reveals the present predominance of the old jealousy and hostility which sprang from ignorance and resulted in war.—Harper's Weekly.

THE AUTHOR OF JOHNSON'S FREEDMEN'S BUREAU VETO.—The following is from the correspondent of the New Bedford Mercury, one of the most reliable newspapers in Massachusetts:

It is believed by Congressmen that the recent veto message of President Johnson was written by Colonel W. H. Trescott, the Commissioner sent here by the Governor of South Carolina to lobby in the interests of the rich planters of the Sea Islands, whose lands were set apart by order of General Sherman for the freedmen who followed him in his "march to the sea." While the bill, since vetoed, was under consideration, Trescott, in company with Ex-Governor Aiken and one Whaley of South Carolina, appeared before the Select Committee on Freedmen, and pleaded earnestly for the restoration of these lands to their former owners, without regard to loyalty. The Committee heard them patiently, but decided not to follow their advice, and sustained the action in the bill protecting the freedmen in their occupancy of these lands for the term of three years. Finding they could not influence the Committee, they laid their grievances before the Copperheads of the House and mingled freely with Voorhies, Rogers, Chandler and other "friends of the South," and no doubt found much consolation; but these gentlemen not being very powerful in controlling legislation, could not render them any material service beyond sympathy. Upon the passage of the bill they retired from the lobbies, evidently disgusted with a Congress that would not accept the advice of three such distinguished gentlemen from South Carolina as they were. Their only hope now was in the President. To the White House they repaired, and appeared to have been received with great favor, for it was noticed that Colonel Trescott had frequent interviews with the President. He seemed to have the ear to the Presidential mansion, while Republican Congressmen had to stand aside and wait their turn. Before it was known that the President would veto the bill, Trescott, in conversation with an M. C., said that if the Freedmen's Committee had made the bill as he wanted it, the President would have signed it, and was the first to intimate that a veto was coming. Taking his own admission, the knowledge of his frequent interviews with the President, and the fact that Copperhead Congressmen, with whom he associated, offered to bet fifty to one that the bill would be vetoed, the evidence is pretty strong that Trescott, if he did not write the message, at least had a hand in it. He is a chirping fellow, fresh from the hot-bed of treason, and boasts of having been one of Buchanan's advisers when the rebellion was being concocted. Such are the men who are shaping the "policy" of Andrew Johnson.

In a recent number of the Knoxville Whig, Governor Brownlow of Tennessee thus indicates the opinion of a loyal Tennessean concerning the present situation of President Johnson:

"The rebel flatterers and new born admirers of President Johnson ask, with insolence, if such and such men indorse the President and his reconstruction policy. By this standard they measure every man's patriotism and love of country. We are called to an account, and an answer demanded of us upon this point. In answering the question we would be pleased to have some one say what that policy is, and what is contemplated by it. We indorse all the orders, proclamations, and speeches of the President, as reported and published, while he was Military Governor of Tennessee. Throughout that entire period he contended that treason should be stamped with infamy; that leading, intelligent, conscious traitors should be tried and punished; that treason should be made odious, and the demands of justice satisfied by punishing its guilty authors; that all the guarantees of the Government, in fact as well as in form, be placed beyond the danger of recall; and that if there were but 5,000 loyal men in Tennessee they should control the State; and further, that rebels should occupy the back seats.

We are on this platform, and if the President is still on this platform we are with him. If his reconstruction policy proposes to reverse this policy, and to abandon this platform, we are not with him, nor are the loyal and true men of Tennessee. If he intends to pardon and turn loose upon the country all the bad men that led off in this rebellion, or if he intends to reconstruct the late rotten Democratic party, and to force upon Congress the rebel delegates, talking treason, and boasting of what they did to destroy the Government, we are not with him, nor are the true men of the nation. If he holds to the principles of the Baltimore platform, upon which himself and Mr. Lincoln were nominated, we are with him. If he has wrangled off that platform, we will not go off with him, nor will the loyal men of the country."

THE BATTLE OF FIVE FORKS.—Gen. George K. Warren has prepared a report of the battle of Five Forks, with a justification of his conduct in that affair, which presents quite a new aspect of the case. It will be recollected that on the occasion referred to Gen. Warren was removed from command for an investigation, the public have remained up to this time ignorant of the cause of his removal. His pamphlet is intended to show that he was unjustly treated, and though he writes temperately, it is conceded that he makes out a very strong case, which his acknowledged bravery and former success as a commander of the Fifth Corps will go far to strengthen. It is suggested that for the sake of history it might be well if other officers of the army would present their views upon disputed points in a spirit of seeking to render reparation for whatever of injustice may have been done to participants in our great struggle with rebellion.

Miscellaneous Items.

The Dry Tortugas contain five hundred and eighty prisoners.

The Vicksburg and Shreveport Railroad was recently sold at auction for $50,000.

Experiments in Cheshire, England, would seem to show that the rinderpest is curable by lime-water.

The number of mills engaged in rolling iron for railroads in the United States is thirty-nine, with the capacity of 742,000 tons.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS.—The receipts from Internal Revenue since June 30th, 1865, amounts to the enormous sum of $232,153,676 43.

Rents have undergone a heavy decline in Richmond. A building that would have rented for $6,000 a few months ago was let the other day for $1,500.

A company has been formed in Danbury, Conn., with a capital of $1,000,000 for mining operations in Montana Territory. The stock was all taken inside of a week.

The gold-bearing quartz in the vicinity of the Great Falls of the Potomac, about 14 miles from Washington City, is beginning to attract considerable attention.

The Rockingham (Va.) Register states that a company of Baltimoreans have bought a tract of mineral lands, consisting of 40,000 acres, in Gilles and Bland counties, for the sum of $100,000.

Those who have anticipated a large revenue from the sale of confiscated property at the South will be surprised to learn that the proceeds since the close of the rebellion do not amount to more than $120,000.

GEORGIA.—The cotton factory at Macon is in operation and doing well. It turns out ninety-six thousand yards of sheeting per month, which, at the market price, (thirty-five cents a yard,) amounts to $33,600.

Governor Fletcher has signed the bill, which recently passed the Missouri Legislature, providing for the consolidation of the bonded debt of that State. This debt amounts already to about thirty millions of dollars.

The Liverpool Journal contains an assertion that the Government has private information of a privateer being at sea on a Fenian errand. This is given as one of the probable reasons for the suspension of the English Habeas Corpus Act.

The sale of shoes in Lynn during the month of January last, amounted in the aggregate to one million of dollars. The business now is not so good, however, and it is thought that the sales for the month of February did not amount to more than half that sum.

The new bridge across the Hudson river at Albany, contains over two millions feet of timber, 2,000 ties, and 100 tons of cast iron. The time consumed in its construction was about twenty months, and its estimated cost is about one million two hundred thousand dollars.

KIT CARSON.—This famous frontiersman is now a Colonel in the United States Army. He served his country with distinction during the rebellion, and now that the rebellion is crushed, he devotes himself to fighting his old enemies, the Indians. A St. Louis paper thus speaks of him:

Kit Carson and Col. Bent called on Gen Pope this morning at 10 o'clock, and had a somewhat lengthy interview. From a hurried glance of the famous mountaineer, while waiting a few moments in the ante-room at headquarters, we judged him to be a man below the medium size, rather squat in stature, of compact, iron frame, and a countenance bespeaking with slight wrinkles, betokening an expression of great determination and reserved power. He appears reserved, modest and of a retiring nature, as is often characteristic of men of positive character. His countenance was bronzed from exposure, and a gentleman who met him said: "There goes an Indian." Kit was dressed in a Colonel's uniform, with rather brown shoulder straps, and his dark hair, slightly sprinkled with gray, flowed down upon his shoulders in waterfall. He wore a rather broad brimmed felt hat, and altogether presented the appearance of a sturdy little man, destitute of all pretension. Word soon came from Gen. Pope to admit the two gentlemen into his private room, and Kit took off his felt hat and gently bowed himself into the presence of the Commanding General.

IT IS "UNPOPULAR TO BE A UNION MAN" IN NORTH CAROLINA.—Those who contend that the South is earnestly and devotedly loyal—that the spirit of secession has been thoroughly crushed—that it is quite safe to abandon the States to themselves—are respectfully commended to the following expressions of the Raleigh Standard, written by Holden, Ex-Governor of North Carolina:

There should be but one party in this State at this time, and that is the Union party. He that is not for the Union is against it. It is not saved yet. It is still in great peril. It is still "hammer at one end and anvil at the other." The same sectional spirit that produced the late awful war is still unsubdued. That little member, the tongue, "set on fire of hell," is again at work, deepening and widening the chasm between the North and South. The North demands certain things, and still seems to repel the South, and the latter is defiant and sullen. It is unpopular in this State to be an out-and-out Union man. It is popular to sympathize with the dead Confederacy. No matter what the North may say or do, or omit to say or do, it is not to be expected that we can get back into the Union until we feel and manifest a change in this respect.

A TENNESSEE CONGRESSMAN.—Colonel Stokes, one of the loyal Congressmen elect from Tennessee, in a recent speech at Nashville said:

These States were allocated for four years, and do you suppose that this thing can be healed and reconstructed in a few hours? Not so. Take time—take time. The Committee in regard to Tennessee has taken a great deal of proof. It is the duty of Congress not to let the members walk right in and take the oath, regardless of any questions, and walk to the Treasury Department and draw their pay. I know it is very acceptable. But Congress is not going to do that thing. Congress ought not to do it. Its duty is to guarantee to every State a republican form of government, and examine the laws passed in pursuance thereof. It is the duty of Congress to examine and see who voted for the amendments to the Constitution; to examine and say what class of men sit in your Legislature; what sort of laws they are passing.

THE PRESIDENT'S CIRCULAR.—In regard to this circular respecting the matter of giving employment to soldiers, the justice of which none will dispute, the Carson Appeal says:

Does the President indulge in that delusion that his circular to the various Federal office holders, advising them to employ discharged soldiers for their clerks, will induce the veterans of the Union armies to rally to the politest recruiting office styled the "National Johnson Club?" Does he so far deceive himself as to suppose that any paltry inducements that he may cause to be offered will induce a wholesale desertion of their colors and their principles by the men who have survived the dangers of the trenches and the horrors of Andersonville? A better knowledge of the character and mettle of the men who delivered his own State from the tyranny of the secessionists, and who helped by their votes to place him where he is, would relieve his mind from that egregious delusion.

ANTIETAM NATIONAL CEMETERY.—A Baltimore dispatch, March 7th, says: The following States were represented at the meeting of the Antietam National Cemetery Association, held at Baltimore to-day: Augustus Briggs, President; Thomas A. Boalit, Secretary; Charles O. Fulton, Trustee for Maryland; General B. Shriver, Trustee for Maryland; James G. Blaine, for Maine; Henry Edwards, for Massachusetts; M. Gates Sollock, for Wisconsin; G. Q. Crammer, for West Virginia. A communication received by Blaine from Governor Cony, of Maine, was read, which stated that the Legislature of Maine had appropriated the sum of $2,787 40 as her quota for the cemetery. The Legislature of West Virginia has appropriated as her quota $1,672 44; Rhode Island, $1,000; Maryland, $15,000. The old officers were elected for the ensuing year.

NORTHERN PATRIOTISM.—The Sacramento Bee states the reconstruction matter in the clearest manner, thus: "The Southern people are in the Union, no matter where the Southern States may be, and whenever they will acknowledge that fact and peaceably accord to all others the rights and privileges not denied to themselves, all difficulty about reconstruction will soon vanish."

"PUNCH" IN RHYME.—Punch thus sums up the ins and outs of the case at Washington in an unusually clear statement from an English writer on our affairs:

Says Johnson, "To hold that the States of the South
Were ever out of the Union is sin."
Says Congress, "We'll guess if they never were out,
There ain't no call for letting 'em in."

NEW YORK TOWN ELECTION.—About two-thirds of the townships in New York have chosen their town officers. The general result is a decided gain for the Republican Unionists. Total, so far, Republican, 407; Democratic, 232. Net Republican gain, 34.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND, April 20th, 1866.

The markets generally are unchanged, and we have but few remarks to offer to-day, relative to business for the period under review, that would be new or interesting.

There are some few transactions noted in the produce markets but while offerings of most kinds are free there is a limited demand. Lard and bacon (cities) are firm. Eggs rule at the quotations with a prospect of a further advance. Vegetables are scarce and high. Butter appears to be dropping.

California new potatoes are jobbing at 4 cents ₱ lb., and retailing at 5 cents, which is a check to old potatoes on hand, as their advance is looked for.

The trade leading to the hatchet are still in a bad condition, and low receipts of produce and low wages, while shipments of merchandise are retarded from the same causes.

SOMETHING NEW AND NOVEL.—A PATENT APPLIED FOR.—Mr. HENDER has invented an article by which he can take any number of Head Pictures on the same plate without the subject getting up from the chair; can get different positions of the face and all sizes of heads, can put a half dozen heads on the space of a half dollar; can put a whole family of heads on a common sheet card, and will sell pictures cheaper than any other Gallery on this coast. Has the process for taking the new and beautiful style pictures called the Porcelain or Sun Pearl, so much talked of in San Francisco, also, one or two rights from that place who has been making those pictures in San Francisco.

Mr. H. is now prepared to do as good work and in as great variety of style as any Gallery in Portland. Orders for full portrait size of photograph will be promptly attended to apl0d4pif

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,
Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,
GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for all the diseases above-mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the CONSTITUTION WATER, for it will build the system up with unusual vigor, and thus consummate that happiness which cannot exist unless both parties are healthy.

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new being; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom at an almost idiotic state of inactivity, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth requiramental, conscious of new vigor.—The medicine recommended, CONSTITUTION ITSELF, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND CATARRH OF THE BLADDER, STRANGURY AND BURNING, PAINFUL URINATING, CALCULUS, GRAVEL, BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to
